6/1/13

Train the Trainer Course

Learn how to construct trails that will stand up to rain, sleet and snow. Mike Driskell will teach the fundamentals of building a trail that will last over time and not need to be repaired year-in and yearout. This course is offered free; however, please RSVP at www.rrgcc.org so that we may plan appropriately.

6/8/13

6th for a Cause – West 6th Brewery, Lexington, 6pm – Midnight

Stop by West 6th Brewery after a hard day's climbing. West 6th will donate 6% of all proceeds that evening to the RRGCC. So raise your glass to the RRGCC!

8/10/13

Johnny & Alex Trail Day – Lago Linda's 8:30 am – Midnight

Enjoy the best kept secret of the RRGCC! This year we plan to open several trails to new crags, as well as improve existing trails. We hope to get as many people as possible to make 2013 the year to remember! Registration begins at 8:30 am. Volunteers that pre-register at www.rrgcc.org will receive a free t-shirt. Lunch will be provided by Miguel's and dinner from the Rockhouse. There will also be a raffle, 100-ft slip'n slide, volleyball, frisbee, great music and more. Come out and maintain the land YOU OWN. Hang out with old friends – and make new ones. Best party of the year!
