

Black Diamond and the RRGCC present the Clip n' Go Climbing Comp

Come out and climb at this year's Rocktoberfest Clip n' Go Climbing Competition sponsored by Black Diamond. Why? you say. . . . Well, let me tell ya

1. You're climbing on the property that you own (kinda the point of the whole Rocktoberfest thing)
2. It's cheap (only $20 dollars per person & you can enter both divisions)
3. Great prizes from Black Diamond (first-place cash, draws, cams, lights, and more!)
4. It's at the new Miller Fork climbing areas (yummy)
5. Fun for you easy for us (all your money goes straight to helping pay the mortgage)
6. It's all about endurance (check out the rules below)
7. It's an all-day climbing thing (comp starts at 10 am. and finishes at 5:00 SHARP)
8. You won't miss any of the events Saturday night
9. If you are a guy - - - girls dig competitors
10. If you are a girl - - - guys dig competitors
11. There are divisions so there are more ways to win: Habanero and Jalapeno for both Men's and Women's categories

Rules

- Score sheets may be purchased through pre-registration, at Rocktoberfest registration, or at the parking lot at Miller Fork.
- Points are gathered by clipping bolts on redpoint. Competitors get 1 point for each bolt clipped until you weight the rope (finish the route, fall or take).
- All routes have a multiplier.
- More difficult routes have a higher multiplier.
- Score: points times the multiplier.
- Traditional routes have a fixed number of points.
- Competitors tally their own scores (there are judges).
- Belayers sign the card.
- Start time is 10 am
- Finish time is 5 pm <<<sharp>>>
- Competitors total their own scorecards <<before 5>>
- There are no errors with the score sheet. The score sheet is right.

Winners will be announced at the event Saturday night. Prizes will be given!

Example of the scoring:

Russian Body Thief: 1st attempt 6 bolts x 2 = 12 pts 2nd attempt = 8 bolts x 2 = 16 pts (score = 16 points you can try as many times as you want but only the high point counts)

Sport climbing? It doesn't matter if the gear is hanging. Gear climbing? Place 'em yourself.

Score Sheets must be turned in at 5:00 pm and you must have tallied your score.

The climbing areas will still be open to all even if you're not competing. Please play nicely with others.
