

Red in a Day (RIAD) Rules

April 13th, 2024

RULES OF THE RIAD

- RRGCC is importing 'The Big Stone' to eastern Kentucky in this endurance-based competition where partners are tasked to rack up 31 pitches of Corbin sandstone over the course of a day – RIAD.
- Climbers will enter in pairs (2) and each partner is required to free-climb every one of the 31 pitches they choose. At least one member of the team must lead each route.
- Teams must climb 31 unique pitches. Repeats will not be counted toward your score. Extensions count as one route, but the first 'pitch' can be climbed again & scored.
- In the case of a fall by the leader or follower on route, teams cannot take a second consecutive attempt on that same route unless no other teams are waiting for it.
- Only open routes located in PMRP, BRRP, Miller Fork, or Muir Valley are eligible.
- Types of climbing that are prohibited – Aid climbing, free soloing, & simul-climbing.
- All trad and mixed routes must be climbed ground-up without any pre-placed gear.
- RIAD scorecards will only be counted toward official awards if all 31 pitches are climbed...or else it is a long rappel back down!

SCORING

- Sport route grades (according to RedRiverClimbing.com) will be assigned points based on the table below. Executive scoring decisions left to competition organizers.
- Trad routes earn three (3) additional points above the amount listed for sport routes of the same grade. Mixed routes earn only one (1) extra point.

Grade	Points	Grade	Points	Grade	Points
5.0 - 5.4	100	5.10c	108	5.12c	116
5.5	101	5.10d	109	5.12d	117
5.6	102	5.11a	110	5.13a	118
5.7	103	5.11b	111	5.13b	119
5.8	104	5.11c	112	5.13c	120
5.9	105	5.11d	113	5.13d	121
5.10a	106	5.12a	114	5.14a	122
5.10b	107	5.12b	115	5.14b - d	123

- Why are the grades so close? Shouldn't 5.12 be worth double a 5.6? Good question!
 - Since the basis of this event is mileage, we want to urge climbers to focus on completing the challenge of 31 pitches rather than try to climb as hard as possible and burn out.
 - It's a marathon, not a sprint – Have fun and get to the top!

TICKETS

- Entry costs $62 per team ($1 a pitch!) until April 1st, price increases to $93 per team afterwards.
- If your team plans to visit Muir Valley, you will still need to pay the $10 parking fee... or sign up to become an RRGCC member and receive one free parking pass at Muir!
